

Oscar® nominees Chloë Sevigny (Boys Don't Cry) and Stephen Rea (The Crying Game) star in a psychological thriller from an original story by Brian De Palma. When an investigative reporter and a young physician probe too deeply into the affairs of a notorious psychiatrist and his beautiful assistant, they uncover more than they bargained for. For the road to self-discovery sometimes leads to madness... and death. Reporter Grace Collier (Sevigny) is determined to unearth the secrets of Dr. Lacan (Rea) and his Zurvan Clinic – a sprawling estate on the outskirts of the city that is home to and treatment center for severely disturbed children. But there is something sinister beneath the clinic's benign surface... and several patients have mysteriously died. Is Dr. Lacan experimenting on these children? And is his hauntingly lovely but unstable assistant Angelique (Lou Doillon) the grown-up product of one of these experiments?

As Grace strives to find the truth she plunges deeper into a dangerous web of deceit and heads towards a shocking climax that may threaten her sanity... and her life.
